A Rationale: Summer Reading—Why? Why? Why?

Dear Student,

Believe us, we know that reading for English class and the tedious writing involved with SUMMER READING is not your number one priority this summer. Rather, it's likely you are looking forward to long, languid days at the beach and a myriad of Netflix sessions on the couch. (Wait? What's languid and myriad, you might say.) The very fact you might be wondering about words like languid and myriad leads us, dear student, to the first point of summer reading:

- 1) It's good for your brain. Why? Because it develops your vocabulary—thus, it broadens your understanding of complex text and deepens your critical thinking skills. And might we add, these are skills you need for life—be it for SAT, filling out your tax return, applying for a grant, or carrying out the day-to-day demands of a high-powered career. In short, reading—quite literally—builds brain matter. Please see more on this very important topic here: (https://www.cmu.edu/news/archive/2009/December/dec9\_brainrewiringevidence.shtml).

But, if that doesn't convince you on the merits of summer reading, maybe this tidbit of knowledge will: Have you heard of the “summer slide”? No, this isn't a water slide at a theme park you might attend with your friends in July. It's actually a researched phenomenon that says some students lose up to half of their previous school year's reading and learning gains in English class due to the prolonged summer break when they are not reading rigorous text or studying for that next AP exam. Read about it here: (<https://natlib.govt.nz/schools/reading-engagement/summer-reading/summer-slide-and-summer-reading-research>; <https://www.cde.state.co.us/cdelib/summerslide>). So, that leads us to point number two:

- 2) We are a college preparatory school, and we want you to work hard and maintain your academic gains over the summer so that we are good stewards of your time and investment during the school year. If we spend a quarter or more each year playing “catch up,” we are not delivering on our commitment to excellence as a college preparatory school. In the Bible it says we are called to do to all work as if we are doing it for God; consider that the next time you sit down to do your summer work (Colossians 3:23-24).

If facts and figures or “educational speak” don't win you over, allow us to leave you with this: BOOKS CHANGE THE WORLD, AND THEY CHANGE PEOPLE, TOO. This little revelation leads us to point number three for why we want you to read this summer:

- 3) Books make us more knowledgeable, empathetic, aware people. They allow us—to quote Atticus Finch in To Kill a Mockingbird—to walk around in another person's shoes. Books are good for you whether you believe it or not. Learn more about this here: (<https://bigthink.com/21st-century-spirituality/reading-rewires-your-brain-for-more-intelligence-and-empathy>).

And to be honest, being a good person is more important than being a smart person. God wants us to be wise-minded, but he also wants us to be tenderhearted. 1 Peter 3:8 says, “Finally, all of you, have unity of mind, sympathy, brotherly love, a tender heart, and a humble mind.” Good books help us meditate on the human experience; they help us consider life from another person's point of view, and quite frankly, that's what's it all about, dear student.

So, happy reading!

Sincerely,
Your Nerdy English Teachers

A Letter from Your English Teacher

*"We have this hope as an anchor for the soul, firm and secure."
-Hebrews 6:19*

Dear Students,

Welcome to your senior English class! I'm excited to share time with you this school year, reading meaningful works written by some of my favorite authors. I've always thought of books as powerful holders of advice, lessons learned by men and women who have walked this earth before you, hoping to leave you some insight and spare you some heartache.

After I graduated from the University of Tampa, I knew that I was meant to pass on the secrets hidden away in seemingly ordinary pages to other generations. I'm blessed to be able to do so, a mix of steward and torch bearer. I realize that not everyone feels as comfortable as I do around complicated texts knowing, as Hemingway put it, that after you finish reading a good book, "you will feel that all that happened to you and afterwards it all belongs to you." I'm here to help you decipher the text, no matter how challenging, to strengthen your communication skills and your capacity for thinking critically, and to encourage you along the way. I've taught high school English for more than 10 years, from 9th grade college prep to AP Literature. I may be new to you, but this is anything but new to me. You'll get used to my high expectations and realize that I demand excellence but not perfection. I expect my students to follow all of my instructions, to give their best efforts, and to be respectful. They'll always be a quote or a work from the Lost Generation close to me, and I believe there's always room for one more annotation. I'm on your side, starting from this moment on, to help you achieve whatever your personal best may be as your teacher, a title I don't take lightly.

We'll read stories of valiant honor and unimaginable betrayal, selfless love and selfish carelessness, unchangeable truths and unfathomable duplicity. I hope the themes of every work inspire you to make changes and take action. When asked what all of the best writers share in common, Arthur Miller once said, "I, personally, think that what the big ones have in common is a fierce moral sensibility, which is unquenchable..." As you read and gain insight from these writers this year, emblazon the lessons in your mind to move you to positive action. Carry them with you as you make your way in this world and change what you see needs fixing, knowing that we have the protection, power, and encouragement of the greatest teacher ever, Jesus Christ. "Anything is possible if a person believes." Mark 9:23

Now, let's get started! I look forward to meeting you and am so happy to be here for you!

Sincerely,
Ms. Natalie Pawlowski

A Note on Grading, Checklists, and Rubrics

Due to the complexity and rigor of college-level work and writing, it is often that an overly-wrought rubric cannot accurately capture a student's submitted work. Even the AP Rubric from the College Board accounts for these complexities in the fluid language of their exam rubrics. Thus, all English students will abide by assignment checklists and/or general essay rubrics for all applicable essays and writing assignments. Within these general tools, students can expect to see specific line-by-line edits and constructive feedback where appropriate. In some cases, a more detailed rubric will be issued for projects and presentations due to the grading differentiation of such summative assessments.

Below, please study the checklists as you complete your summer assignments. Meeting these minimum checklist items allows you the opportunity to access “A-level” work; however, the specific mastery points, such as intellect, insights, command of language, etc. will grade merits an “A.” “A+ work” is work. ## Generic English Essay Rubric

The score reflects the quality of the essay as a whole—its content, its style, its mechanics. Students are rewarded for what they do well and trained in specific ways to improve their writing craft and analysis or argument.

“A” RANGE

These essays offer a well-focused and persuasive analysis. Using apt and specific textual support, these essays fully explore the intent of the prompt and demonstrate what it contributes to the meaning of the work as a whole. Although not without flaws, these essays make a strong case for their interpretation and discuss the nonfiction or literary work with significant insight and understanding. Generally, essays reveal more sophisticated analysis and more effective control of language than do essays scored lower.

“B” RANGE

These essays offer a reasonable analysis. The essays explore the prompt and demonstrate what it contributes to the meaning of the work as a whole. These works have insight and understanding, but the analysis is less thorough, less perceptive, and/or less specific in supporting detail than that of the A essays. Generally, essays scored a B present better-developed analysis and more consistent command of the elements of effective composition than those scored a C.

“C” RANGE

These essays respond to the assigned task with a plausible reading, but they tend to be superficial or underdeveloped in analysis. They often rely upon summary that contains some analysis, implicit or explicit. Although the students attempt to discuss the prompt and how it contributes to the meaning of the work as a whole, they may demonstrate a rather simplistic understanding of the work. Typically, these essays reveal unsophisticated thinking and/or immature writing. The students demonstrate adequate control of language, but their essays may lack effective organization and may be marred by surface errors.

“D” RANGE

These lower-half essays offer a less than thorough understanding of the task or a less than adequate treatment of it. They reflect an incomplete or oversimplified understanding of the work, or they may fail to establish the nature of the prompt’s intent. They may not address or develop a response to how the response contributes to the work as a whole, or they may rely on plot summary alone. Their assertions may be unsupported or even irrelevant. Often wordy, elliptical, or repetitious, these essays may lack control over the elements of college-level composition. Essays scored a D may contain significant misreadings and demonstrate inept writing.

“F” RANGE

Although these essays make some attempt to respond to the prompt, they compound the weaknesses of the papers D range. Often, they are unacceptably brief or are incoherent in presenting their ideas. They may be poorly written on several counts and contain distracting errors in grammar and mechanics. The remarks are presented with little clarity, organization, or supporting evidence. Particularly inept, vacuous, or incoherent, or incomplete essays are scored as an F range.

ENGLISH 11 SUMMER READING ASSIGNMENT

Welcome to Junior English! Summer reading assignments will be due the first day of school. Please plan on assessments and class assignments that require your close reading and analysis of the assigned texts the first few weeks of school. WARNING: If you do not carefully read, you will not be successful in class the first weeks of school! Our theme this year is THE NATURE OF MAN, so please be reflective about how your assignment represents this theme. If you need any help or have any questions, please feel free to contact us!

ASSIGNMENT #1: The Scarlet Letter by Nathaniel Hawthorne (fiction NEW/CLEAN COPY and in PRINT only- ISBN-13: 978-1435159655)

Synopsis and Rationale: In Nathaniel Hawthorne's Romantic novel, The Scarlet Letter, Hawthorne explores the nature of sin, humanity, and society in a 1600s Puritan Massachusetts Bay Colony. Hester Prynne, the novel's protagonist, is accused of a mortal sin, and it is what follows that creates this timeless story of endurance and redemption. As you read The Scarlet Letter, you will have a great deal of opportunities to analyze the text from a literary perspective by exploring what the author does specifically in his writing and craft in order to create theme, purpose, point of view, and style.

Part 1: In-depth Annotations- You will read "The Custom-House" and all chapters. You will do at least one annotation per spread, which is two pages side-by-side. You may write directly in your book or use post-it notes by placing them directly on top of your marked text. Focus on literary devices.

Part 2: Reading Logs- This will be 8 entries, hand-written in two columns. In the first column, you will copy a significant passage you located during your annotations (3-6 sentences) with its provided page number. In the second column, you will analyze the passage in a paragraph for any devices found below in the word bank and discuss how these devices help to create theme and develop elements of a story.

Reading Passage (3-6 sentences with pg. #)	Analysis (paragraph minimum)
"This is your quote" (pg. #).	This is your analysis where you discuss how certain devices create theme and develop elements of a story. This is not a summary.

Part 3: 2-3-page MLA Paper- "Why do you look at the speck of sawdust in your brother's eye and pay no attention to the plank in your own eye?" Luke 6:4. The Puritan society captured by Hawthorne portrays aspects of universal society. While forced to wear a visible emblem of her sin, Hester Prynne lives in a world where no one is sinless. Discuss Hawthorne's characterization of Hester, Reverend Arthur Dimmesdale, and Roger Chillingworth. What critical understanding does Hawthorne convey to his readers concerning the nature of evil based on these characters and their fates? Be certain you have a thesis statement and specific examples and quotes from the novel with in-text MLA citation. You must have a Work Cited page where you cite The Scarlet Letter. You may not use outside sources or online study guides to create your response. It is to be original; plagiarism is strictly forbidden. Please visit <https://owl.english.purdue.edu/owl/resource/747/01/> to learn more about MLA format. And please feel free to contact us via e-mail over the summer if you have any questions. We'd be glad to help.

MINI LESSON YOU MUST FOLLOW EXACTLY TO EARN FULL POINTS ON YOUR ANNOTATIONS:

How to Create In-depth Annotations:

- 1) Find meaningful text and highlight or underline it.
- 2) Reread the text closely for meaning, purpose, and rhetorical or literary devices.
- 3) Label the highlighted text for a particular term or idea you'd like to offer commentary on.
- 4) Write 1-2 sentences of commentary about your annotation. Commentary addresses the "so what" factor or provides analysis. Use the acronym RIPE to help you create commentary on the devices or element you'd like to analyze: Relationships, Importance, Purpose, and Effect.

Rhetorical and Literary Word Bank: Use the word bank below to create your annotations with a variety of terms. If you are unfamiliar with a term, please make a personal glossary of definitions. You will need to know ALL of these terms for class. Be sure you study them.

Rhetorical Devices: ethos, pathos, logos, diction, syntax, style, logical fallacies (look up all of the various ones), claim, counterclaim, rebuttal, concession, appeals, Toulmin's Model of Argumentation (qualification, generalization, analogy, sign, causation, authority, principle) Literary Devices: imagery, simile, metaphor, extended metaphor, metonymy, synecdoche, personification, hyperbole, purpose, theme, symbols, motif, tone, verbal irony, dramatic irony, situational irony, juxtaposition, internal conflict, external conflict, exposition, rising action, climax, falling action, resolution, archetypes (look up all the various ones), protagonist, antagonist, direct characterization, indirect characterization, setting, dynamic character, static character, allegory, allusion, foreshadowing, hubris, social commentary

Annotations and Point-Data-Commentary Tutorial

STUDY AGAIN—Review from Last Year:

Remember, annotations analyze. The definition of analysis is as follows: a systematic examination and evaluation of data or information, by breaking it into its component parts to uncover their interrelationships. Thus, annotations and PDCs do not merely summarize your reading or provide commentary about your personal feelings. Annotations are the beginning of analytical thought and your “proof of purchase” that you did—indeed—closely read and analyze your text. Please pay close attention to step number four below. This is where many of us need to improve. Be certain all of your annotations follow all four steps for an “A” in the grade book. Be sure all annotations have a VARIETY of terms from the word bank on your summer reading handout.

How to Create In-depth Annotations:

- 1) Find meaningful text and highlight it.
- 2) Reread the text closely for meaning, purpose, and rhetorical or literary devices.
- 3) Label the highlighted text for a particular term or idea you’d like to offer commentary on.
- 4) Write 2-3 sentences of commentary about your annotation. Commentary addresses the “so what” factor or provides analysis. Use the acronym RIPE to help you create commentary on the devices or element you’d like to analyze: Relationships, Importance, Purpose, and Effect.

Here is an example from the novel My Antonia

(text highlighted in gray/annotation appears below with labeling and commentary)

The feelings of that night were so near that I could reach out and touch them with my hand. I had the sense of coming home to myself, and of having found out what a little circle man's experience is. For Antonia and for me, this had been the road of Destiny; had taken us to those early accidents of fortune which predetermined for us all that we can ever be. Now I understood that the same road was to bring us together again. Whatever we had missed, we possessed together the precious, the incommunicable past.

SYMBOL to create theme:

The purpose of the road is to symbolize Jim’s connection to the past and to Antonia. The effect is highly sentimental (pathos) as the novel ends, showing Jim’s strong nostalgia for the past and his friendship with Antonia. This is important because it brings the theme—the complexities of life and coming of age—to a conclusion.

Student Exemplars

All logs are handwritten; however, for the sake of readability and publication, students volunteered to type their logs. Both logs below earned an “A” in class. The work was 100% their own, established high-level depth and insights, and demonstrated a strong command of language. Please use these responses below to edify yourself as you complete your logs.

Student Exemplar #1: Submitted by Blake McCoy Quarter 3 in AP Language and Composition
Student Text: Outside Reading Into the Wild by John Krakauer

Reading Passage (3-6 sentences minimum with pg. #)	P.D.C. Analysis (paragraph minimum)
“I was always getting on Mom and Dad’s case because they worked all the time and were never around,’ she reflects with a self-mocking laugh. ‘And now look at me: I’m doing the same thing.’ Chris, she confessed, used to poke fun at her capitalist zeal by calling her the Duchess of York” (Krakauer 129).	In the biography Into the Wild, Jon Krakauer introduces Carine, Chris’s sister, as a character to shift point of views and to build dramatic foil to uncover Chris’s intentions and the virtue of the theme: liberation from materialism and society. Carine is introduced in Chapter 13, when she is interviewed. Here, the reader learns her struggles as a child due to household instability, which were Chris’s struggles, too. Krakauer presents the suffering Chris endured at home as a source of Chris’s hatred for society and ultimately, his fatal journey. The two point of views develops juxtaposition between the pain Chris’s parents caused and the subsequent pain Chris caused. However, Krakauer presents Carine to prove Chris’s struggles at home are an inadequate reason to reject his family and inflict pain: “I can’t seem to get through a day without crying” (Krakauer 129). Carine’s ability to overcome the pain from her father’s infidelity makes her a dramatic foil to Chris. Chris and Carine are depicted similarly in character, mainly due to the same upbringing. However, Carine is characterized as the more stable counterpart, which seems to detract from Krakauer’s theme. However, this is when he inserts Carine’s materialism to depict the contrast: “they worked all the time and were never around,’ she reflects with a self-mocking laugh” (Krakauer 129). Krakauer provides Carine’s materialism with her ability to compartmentalize her parents’ affliction. However, Chris is juxtaposed against his sister in this sense to further solidify Krakauer’s theme, surrounding the positive nature of extracting one’s self from materialistic society.

Student Exemplar #2: Submitted by Anna Wild Quarter 3 in AP Language and Composition
Student Text: Outside Reading A Thousand Splendid Suns by Khaled Hosseini

Reading Passage (3-6 sentences minimum with pg. #)	P.D.C. Analysis (paragraph minimum)
“Mariam backed away. She was hyperventilating. Her ears buzzed, her pulse fluttered, her eyes darted from one face to another. She back away again, but there was nowhere to go—she was in the center of a circle. She spotted Fariba, who was frowning, who saw that she was in distress. ‘Let her be!’ Fariba was saying, ‘Move aside, let her be! You’re frightening her!’” (Hosseini 68).	In the historical fiction novel, A Thousand Splendid Suns, Khaled Hosseini utilizes abrupt and hasty syntax in order to illustrate the fragile, child-like archetype portrayed by Mariam. As Mariam makes her first public appearance following her marriage, she is engulfed with questions and statements. In this moment, Hosseini writes, “her ears buzzed, her pulse fluttered, her eyes darted from one face to another,” conveying that such a young mind cannot handle such pressure (Hosseini 68). This setting expects much from young women—even the nearly orphaned Mariam. Hosseini develops this intense setting as Mariam was “backed away” and “in the center of a circle” forced to uphold this status of being a married woman at such an early age (Hosseini 68). Through such brisk syntax and a contrasting innocent archetype, the reader can infer Mariam will be expected to obtain societal measurements that may never be achievable.
